

In 1943, local businessman HJP Bomford gifted 21 paintings and drawings to Swindon, helping establish the Swindon Collection of Modern British Art and Ceramics. Since then, Swindon Museum and Art Gallery has developed important collections of archaeology, social history and natural history which reflect the town's rich history from prehistoric times to the present day.

The Friends of Swindon Museum and Art Gallery are dedicated to the development, maintenance and enhancement of the best possible museum and art gallery for Swindon, for the benefit of residents and visitors alike.

The photo above shows a summer workshop funded by the Friends and Arts Society Kennet and Swindon.

The Friends also helped purchase the painting 'Regent Circus' by Harold Dearden shown overleaf.

Please consider making a donation so that we can continue to support the Museum and Art Gallery.
